

Display confidence with accurate, secure data

From realtime market data to highly curated datasets, Fincentric's digital financial solutions are powered by the sources that are right for you.

A seamless process

Fincentric creates private-label, custom data solutions that can be leveraged and delivered across all channels for all audiences.

We work with the leading third-party data vendors across markets, fixed income, sector, ESG, equities, news, research, funds and events. Our data-agnostic platform ingests raw data in a variety of formats like flat files, XML, large text blocks, PDF and video.

The aggregated data is verified, validated and normalized, then served to business applications and front-end outputs for consumption. These can be developed and hosted by Fincentric or your own firm.

Entitlements

Fincentric ensures your data is protected and correctly entitled by working directly with vendors to acquire the necessary licenses. Your data is always made secure by our multi-layered process across back-end storage and APIs. Our data entitlement process is verified by our Exchange Compliance and Data Solutions teams for every engagement.

Data Maps

All digital financial experiences have vast and complicated datasets behind them. By working with raw data feeds to understand the shape of the content, Fincentric can design a solution from the perspective of both user experience and information display. This results in more accurate, buildable prototypes and ensures the data will be understandable.
